

Holy Spirit's Interpretation of the New Testament (NTI) - Reginadawnakers.com

Romans, Chapter 6

Jesus is a symbol of all that is possible with you, because Jesus lived as a symbol of all that is true with you. Jesus was the symbol of life, perfection, love, wisdom, innocence, and devotion. This is true of you. This is your truth. Jesus was the symbol of your truth.

Jesus is a symbol of all that is possible with you, because Jesus lived as a symbol of all that is true of you. You are Jesus and Jesus is you. There is no separation between him and you. You know this, if you close your eyes. For when you close your eyes, you can find him there. He is a part of you, within you, a being within your soul.

Jesus is a part of you, so that all the he accomplished, he accomplished within you. And that which has been accomplished within you has been accomplished by you, so that it may continue to be accomplished until it has been accomplished in full.

The universe is in your mind, so that all that has been accomplished has been accomplished by you. And within this universe, the model that rises to the top of your mind is the symbol of the man called Jesus. This is because Jesus represents your true desire. Jesus is the freedom you want to be. Everything else that floats within the universe of the mind is from a past desire and is not your current desire anymore.

When you look at your brother Jesus, you are not looking outside your mind. You are not seeing the past or looking into the future. When you look at your brother Jesus and you recognize what you want, you are looking into your mind now and seeing him. You are looking in your Heart now and recognizing him. You are looking within you now, and you are finding him there, fully accomplished, all that he is, living with your mind.

You are eternal, as all of eternity is within you. God is eternity, and the extension of God is you. But you have shut off your mind to the eternity that is there. You have looked away and promised to look at only a fragment of your mind. This is why you believe in time. You believe a fragment is now and everything else is not now. But everything is now. Eternity is in your mind, and you are in the Mind of Eternity. And Jesus, who shares your mind with you, is the symbol of your recognition that this is true.

Close your eyes. Jesus is in your mind. He is no where else. You know him and experience him no where else. Jesus is in your mind now. He is a part of you.

Romans, Chapter 7

With Jesus you have been released, because with Jesus, a belief has been loosened in the mind. With Jesus, the thought that you are forever separate from God, forever within a spatial compartment of time, forever a slave to your own invention...with Jesus, this was all undone.

In Jesus you see the limitlessness that is your truth. In Jesus you see your innocence and love. In Jesus, your perfection remains unmarred. My dear child, through the symbol of Jesus, you glimpse your own truth!

Through Jesus you have been release, because a Light now shines clearly within the mind. Focus on this Light and realize you have found your truth. And follow this Light with Me.

You are the mind that made the world, so all of the world is within you. Is this a sin? You asked this question, and you decided it was. And then you went on to decide that you were sinful. And much of what you see within the world of your mind is a clear reflection of your belief.

But then you look at Jesus, and in Him you see the Light, and something inside of you rests. It rests, because it knows that it need not worry. The truth is still within you. And if Jesus is your truth, then everything else must not be, and so you must not be guilty. You just need to let go of that which isn't truth, and follow your recognition of truth back to your awareness of true.

The Holy Spirit is within you also, and the Holy Spirit is more than a symbol. The Holy Spirit is the pure reflection of truth within the memory of your mind. This memory is not past. Indeed, it is what is very real now. But it is outside of awareness, outside of what you believe, calling you back to what is true now.

Your conscious awareness is based on what you believe but it is not a reflection of truth. To call you back to truth, through the forest of your conscious awareness, the Holy Spirit sends symbols of Light. These symbols come in many forms and many manners, of which Jesus is one. But they are all symbols leading you back to your truth, which is beyond your belief and conscious awareness.

Remain alert to the symbols that are sent into your conscious awareness to follow.

Lock onto them, and be led Home. Let everything else pass as you see it.

See it only as a reflection of the past, a mere shadow, and let it pass by without attachment.

Stay with the Light. Follow the Light, and it will lead safely and easily Home.
